Dear Educators:

Welcome to the 2002-2003 season of plays at Seattle Children's Theatre. We hope you enjoy the diverse selection of shows we have for you this season: both adaptations and new works. And this, our third annual Educator Resource Guide, is another in our continuing efforts to publish a comprehensive resource booklet to enhance the experience of bringing your class to one of our plays.

The ERG has a section for each play with: a synopsis, a resource list, and articles with activities or discussion questions and EALRs. Due to the early publication of the ERG, some of the information on the plays may change before the show opens. This year we intend to bring you up-to-date by posting articles and activities on our web site. Be sure to visit www.sct.org throughout the year for all the latest information.

Your continued support of SCT and arts in education is invaluable to us, as is your input. Please look for ERG evaluation forms in the lobbies of both the Charlotte Martin and Eve Alvord theatres after your field trip.

We'll see you at the theatre!
